

Withdrawal Policy

After you have been accepted to the ROSE program and paid the required deposit(s), you are considered an enrolled participant in that program. By making such payment you are expressing your intention to participate in the ROSE program, you are acknowledging that the program fee deposit is refundable or rolled into your regular tuition bill if enrolling into the ROSE program or withdrawing to a Rutgers fully online semester, or Rutgers semester in New Jersey (if available) before September 2nd, 2020, that the housing deposit is non-transferable and non-refundable after the dates listed below, and you are recognizing that you will be held responsible for some or all of the full program fee, even if ultimately you do not participate in the program, depending on when you formally withdraw from the program.

If you are considering withdrawing from the ROSE program for which you have already paid a program deposit, please review this policy and take the following steps:

1. Speak with a Rutgers Global–China Office member as well as your school advisor. We may be able to help you find a way to still participate, even if withdrawing seems inevitable.

2. Review the timelines below: Remember: program fee deposits are refundable up to September 2nd if enrolling in a ROSE program, Rutgers fully online semester, or Rutgers semester in New Jersey if available. After September 2nd, your participation in ROSE will be regarded as confirmed and program deposit will be non-refundable. Whereas housing deposits for Guangzhou and Beijing are non-refundable after July 17th, 2020 and are non-transferable; Shanghai is non-refundable after August 4th and are non-transferable.

3. If, after speaking with Rutgers Global–China Office and your school advisor, you still intend to withdraw, you must fill out and sign the Withdrawal Form.

Withdrawals are not considered official and valid until a completed WITHDRAWAL FORM is received by the Rutgers Global ROSE Program staff. Withdrawals will be effective on the date we receive your email with the Withdrawal Form attached.
