

Rutgers Global International Travel Grant 2018-2019 Academic Year

FALL 2018 DEADLINE: September 24, 2018
SPRING 2019 DEADLINE: December 21, 2018

The Rutgers Global International Travel Grant provides funding to full-time Rutgers faculty traveling internationally to engage in activities that will create or support relationships between Rutgers and institutions or communities abroad.

Fall applications are for travel between September 1, 2018 and January 21, 2019. Spring applications are for travel between January 22, 2019 and May 31, 2019. Applicants will not be notified of fall travel grant awards until October 12, 2018. Spring applicants will not be notified until January 22, 2019. If you do receive an award, but are traveling before these dates, please be prepared to cover any expenses before receiving the grant.

Eligibility:

- Applicants must be full-time Rutgers faculty
- Travel must support international activities that positively impact the university

Acceptable award activities:

- Visits to educational institutions
- Department/school/unit outreach abroad
- Research abroad
- International conference/meeting participation

Funding:

Successful applicants will receive travel grants up to $750. Amount of funding is contingent on number of successful applications. This grant competition is competitive. Applicants are not guaranteed a grant; for this reason please make sure to secure additional or alternative sources of funding to cover your travel expenses.

Priority will be given to those who:

- Demonstrate the long-term impact of proposed international activities
- Link proposed international activities to strategic goals of their department/school/unit
- Include involvement by one or more of Rutgers' international partners (a current list of Rutgers' international partners can be found here)
- Demonstrate monetary support and/or other kinds of support from their department/school/unit, international organization, partner, and/or host institution; examples of other support include lab time, office space, on-site housing, or transportation
- Have never received funding through Rutgers Global (i.e. Rutgers Global Grants, Faculty and Staff Ambassadors Program, etc.)

Applications will not be accepted for:

- Expenses for faculty while leading a learning abroad experience
- Individuals who have been awarded Rutgers Global International Travel Grant funding within the past three years, or for projects that have already been funded by Rutgers Global (i.e., Rutgers Global Grants)

Application and submission:

- Applications must be submitted using the standardized application form.
- Incomplete applications will not be accepted.
- Electronic submissions are required, and applications should be sent to rick.lee@global.rutgers.edu.

Grantee obligations:

- Funding is contingent on the submission of a Trip Report within 60 days after the proposed travel. Funding may be revoked if the Trip Report is not submitted on time.
- If you have further questions, please contact: Rick Lee at rick.lee@global.rutgers.edu or 848-932-3093
